"Why makes a pig a cow?" Simple, a healthy diet and lots of rest. Many a pig have thou not have seen the light of truth yet these simplewords have been said so much that they are practically idioms.

Personally, though, I don't like academic language and prefer to be at 50% of the maximum word count for 0% of the grade because I spent the afternoon playing around with Pandoc instead of doing my Calculus or Physics or Essays or god know what else shitfuck I hate this I hate this I hate this I hate this I hate this I hate this I hate this I hate this I hate this I hate this I hate this.

In addition to those points, one must consider when the what of the why of the Ku Klux Klan's activities widespreadness is often not spoken about. Consider this salad of words a cool shit. The Pink Wall of Silence is another key point of the premise of the thesis of this essay worth 75% of my grade! It is the powerful grasp of Nurse unions who protect other Nurses when they turn off their nursecams and lead to opaqueness in the healthcare system, which is systemic, and is there systematical or in other words systemtastical. Luckily, the biggest baddest nurse was recently assassinated by the FBI or CIA or NSA or Mossad, so things may turn around for the better or perhaps amazingnest of bobblinglymissed. Love is not enough. Love is not enough. Love is not enough. Love.

I believe that I may be going insane, I can't stop thinking about peelers after using one on some artichokes. I need to put my right hand on my neck to protect it and I clench my stomach with my arms I think it might be a sign of mental illness, probably caused by stress. The procrastination has also gotten a lot worse, not to mention the insomnia. I've been using Melatonin to slow down my brain and stop my anxiety—FUCK, I'm out of pills.

I found a fidget cube yesterday (this is a lie). The spacing of these paragraphs is wrong (this is a truth). A common misconception about the institution of slavery in the United States is that slaves were good, righteous people who would revolt against their masters when given the chance. In truth, that never happened. The only people who led revolts and (attempted) to arm slaves were legitimately, clinically insane. Slavery was so normal that you had to be crazy to fight against it. Americans mastered slavery, they figured out how to subjugate people and make them believe it was good for them, that they were being done a favor. Slaves felt genuine love and care for their masters, because that's effective management. As slavery was phased out, the invaluable techniques gleaned became the foundation of modern workplace management, yet only the insane will actually pick up a dufflebag and gun for the top.
